JOIN THE INTERNATIONAL PEOPLE'S SOLIDARITY DAYS

July 4-8, 2008, Hokkaido, Japan

Resisting Free Trade, Militarism and Fighting for Real Solutions to Climate Change

No more world creating inequality, poverty and social disparity

We demand Climate Justice!

Join the International People's Solidarity Days to discuss and build our alternatives

The G8 Summit will be held this year from July 7-9 in Toyako, Hokkaido, Japan. This will be a culmination of a series of ministerial preparation meeting beginning in March. The G8 Action Network, a network of various Japanese organizations and movements, is calling on all social movements, peasant organizations, women, migrants, urban and rural poor, fisherfolk and civil society from all over the world who are resisting free trade in its many forms, war and militarism, the privatization of essential services and natural resources, illegitimate debt and the domination of global finance, and fighting for and building real people based solutions to global warming, to come and join in the week of action against the G8 here in Japan.

THE GLOBAL CRISIS

Islands being submerged by rising sea levels, the collapse of financial systems, rising food prices - crisis is spreading across the world. The world is now feeling the consequences of neoliberal globalization and developing countries that were forced to deregulate and liberalize their economies are now at the mercy of this global crisis. The global food crisis is but the latest of the crises spawned by neoliberalism. These series of crises have brought to the forefront the flawed policies of corporate globalization, which has brought nothing but worsening poverty, increasing insecurity and deepening indebtedness. The policies of the G8 have also increased militarization and wars and now they are pushing for market-based solutions to climate change, which threaten to endanger the future of the planet.

We can no longer let this continue. The time is now for all of us around the world to come together and join forces to make our voices heard and stop the G8 from doing any further damage to the world.

JOIN US IN THE INTERNATIONAL PEOPLE'S SOLIDARITY DAYS

We invite all of you to come to Japan and join in our International People's Solidarity Days from July 4-8. Through discussions and exchanges with different people around the world, we will build and strengthen our resistance to the G8 and neoliberal globalization and present our proposals for alternatives and strategies on how Another World based on justice, equality and peace is achieved.

We are now accepting applications for registration for your self-organized workshops, seminars, symposiums, stalls, performances and the like for the International People's Solidarity Days from July 4-8. Deadline for registration is June 16. Please see the website for more details:

Please join us!

The security or immigration is becoming tight.

All foreign nationals who are entering Japan regardless of its visa status may be questioned at the airport. You should say at the immigration at the airport that the purpose of your entry is to go to Sapporo to join parallel peaceful activities in Sapporo. We strongly recommend you to contact your Japanese counterparts to ask about how to enter without difficulty before entering Japan.

Please see the blog in Esperanto, Korean and English:

CALL TO ACTION AGAINST THE G8

Resisting Free Trade, Militarism and Fighting for Real Solutions to Climate Change

The G8 Summit will be held this year from July 7-9 in Toyako, Hokkaido, Japan. This will be a culmination of a series of ministerial preparation meeting beginning in March. The G8 Action Network, a network of various Japanese organizations and movements, is calling on all social movements, peasant organizations, women, migrants, urban and rural poor, fisherfolks and civil society from all over the world who are resisting free trade in its many forms, war and militarism, the privatization of essential services and natural resources, illegitimate debt and the domination of global finance, and fighting for and building real people based solutions to global warming, to come and join us in the week of action against the G8 here in Japan.

WHY MOBILIZE AGAINST THE G8?

The G8 nations account for just fourteen percent of the world's population and yet decisions made at these summits dictate the course of the rest of the world. And now more than ever, the evidence is stark that decisions that these nations have made have brought nothing but worsening poverty, increasing insecurity, deepening indebtedness, militarization and wars and now they are pushing for market based solutions to climate change which threaten to endanger the future of the planet. The host of the summit, the Government of Japan, says that it will make this summit a summit on the climate. This is rank hypocrisy. The reality is that the government, under pressure from Japanese industry, is backing away from mandatory limits to greenhouse gas emissions.

We can no longer let this continue. The time is now for all of us around the world to come together and join forces to make our voices heard and stop the G8 from doing any further damage to the world.

JOIN US IN THE INTERNATIONAL PREPARATORY MEETING

We will also begin preparations to challenge the G8 Summit beginning March. We invite all of you to come to Japan and join in our international preparatory meeting from March 7-11, 2008.

This is our schedule:

March 7, 16:00: Press conference at Parliamentarian building

March 8-9: International Coordination Meeting & G8 Seminar

March 9: evening, Move to Hokkaido by plane

March 10-11: Activities in Hokkaido

If your organization is planning to attend the meeting, please email nag00562 nifty.ne.jp to register your participation. You can also contact this email for more information on the meeting.
