Our beginnings

Brief History

The Tri-Peoples' Organization Against Disasters Foundation, Incorporated in Cotabato City began in 1989 when a network of NGOs and POs converged in Cotabato City to discuss about the alarming conditions of populations in disaster-stricken communities. A small center was then put up to respond to the demands of the incessant occurrence of natural and human-made disasters in Central Mindanao.

The unwavering commitment of the center to serve the disaster survivors in many vulnerable communities of the tri-peoples (Katawhang Lumad/IP, Bangsamoro/Muslims and Katawhang Migrante/Christian Settlers) and the developing spirit of networking in the field of disaster management among partner NGOs, POs and communities led to the formal birthing of TRIPOD as an institution. In July 1995, it was registered at the Security and Exchange Commission (S.E.C.) under S.E.C. Registration No. DNO95-000358.

The decades-long armed conflicts in Mindanao are viewed by TRIPOD as the most recurring and devastating disasters in these island/s that continuously brought sufferings and life regression of its peoples. Hence, in doing disaster management work, TRIPOD closely links disasters to poverty, social and climate injustice, development aggressions, etc. Thus, it is seen active in the many different fields - human rights, environment, gender equality, peace and other advocacy.

Vision, mission, goals

TRIPOD envisions....

"A society where the Katawhang Lumad, Bangsamoro and Katawhang Migrante live in peace, solidarity and sustainable development where there is respect to cultural diversities; where resources are distributed justly and equitably; where women and children enjoy their rights; and where the Philippine government is sensitive to the peoples' need."

MISSION STATEMENT

Mindful of existing realities of tri-people in Mindanao, it is our mission to work with poor and vulnerable communities in implementing programs for effective and efficient disaster management with the tri-people of Mindanao using community-based, gender-sensitive, child-friendly and sustainable approaches.

GOALS and OBJECTIVES
