

Climate & Peasant's Rights: A chronological description on South Asian Climate Justice Caravan in Bangladesh-India-Nepal 2014

Sunday 20 May 2018, by BKF, BKS (Date first published: 24 May 2014).

Representatives of a range of small male and female farmers, Adivasis, agricultural laborers, workers, fishworkers, landless people, plantation workers, hawkers and youth organized a caravan across Bangladesh, India and Nepal from November 10-24, 2014 to bring people together for climate justice and peoples solutions to the climate crisis.

Our 14 day South Asian Climate Justice, Gender and Food Sovereignty Caravan, was organized by the Bangladesh Krishok Federation (BKF); Bangladesh Kishani Sabha, Friends of Bangladesh and All Nepal Peasant's Federation and included these movements as well as the Bangladesh Adivasi Samiti, Bangladesh Agricultural Farm Labor Federation, EKOTTRO, National Hawkers' Federation, Progressive Plantation Workers' Union, All Nepal Women's Association, MONLAR, and La Via Campesina all of which are peoples movements struggling for dignity and the rights of rural and working people.

See the day to day description of the caravane: PDF below.
