Glasgow COP26 and Beyond: Climate Justice Advocacy in the Glasgow Agreement

Saturday 24 July 2021, by BOND Patrick (Date first published: 7 July 2021).

The Paris Climate Agreement and subsequent United Nations follow-up conferences have not taken seriously the ecological crisis now unfolding. Not only does prominent scientist James Hanson describe its tokenistic measures in scathing terms, but those seeking climate justice have long despaired of multilateral climate policymaking dominated by imperial and subimperial elite negotiators from high-emitting economies.
